Stages of Architectural Design Process

- I. Master Planning
- II. Programming – Functional Design
- III. Schematic Design – Functional Programming
- IV. Design Development
- V. Construction Documents
- VI. Construction Phase
- VII. Post Occupancy Evaluation

Stages of Architectural Design Process

- Programming – Functional Design
 - Identify Users – interview process
 - Task Analysis
 - Organize physical space to support needs
 - Estimate square footage
 - Identify equipment needs (large scale: i.e. need MRI, ceiling lifts)
 - Blocking and Stacking diagrams = rough sketch
- Sign off: All departments and everyone accounted for

Stages of Architectural Design Process

- Schematic Design – Functional Programming
 - Early building ideas / overall scheme
 - Start of more detailed drawings (room space, window and door placement)
 - Higher level design with focus on creating overall project solutions.
- Sign-Off: Budget constraints met at all levels; function and aesthetic direction set.

Stages of Architectural Design Process

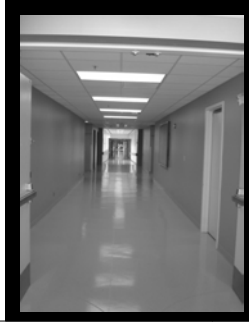

- Design Development
 - More detail into schematic design
 - Interior elevations / 3-D representations
 - Selection of FFE: Furniture, fixtures and equipment details
 - Mock-ups of room details
- Sign-Off: Agreement on further details to finalize design plan
