

Nominate organizations and individuals who make extraordinary contributions to workplace safety and health in the Pacific Northwest.

HONOR

GOSH Conference Awards

Every organization is encouraged to apply. Nominees will compete with like-sized organizations.

Award recipients will be presented in these categories:

- › Workplace Safety Program
- › Association
- › Safety Committee or Safety/Health/Wellness Team
- › Innovation
- › Safety/Health/Wellness Advocate
- › Labor Representative (union or nonunion)
- › Safety and Health Professional
- › Rising Safety Star — New for 2023!
- › Business Leader — New for 2023!

Nominations due: Friday, Oct. 28, 2022

Awards presented on March 8, 2023, at the GOSH Awards Luncheon

Award questions: Kim Gamble, 503-705-6014,
or email Oregon.GOSH@dcbs.oregon.gov

Oregon Governor's Occupational Safety & Health Conference
March 6-9, 2023 • Oregon Convention Center • Portland

The GOSH Conference is a joint effort of the American Society of Safety Professionals (ASSP), Columbia-Willamette Chapter, and Oregon OSHA, a division of the Department of Consumer and Business Services.

oregongosh.com

Nomination Form

Instructions: Complete and submit this nomination form and the specific information indicated for each category.

Select award category for nomination:

- Workplace Safety Program
- Association
- Safety Committee or Safety/Health/Wellness Team
- Innovation
- Safety/Health/Wellness Advocate
- Labor Representative
- Safety and Health Professional
- Rising Safety Star — NEW for 2023!
- Business Leader — NEW for 2023!

Nominees compete with like-sized organizations:

Provide the number of employees or members: _____ List your industry: _____
(Seasonal employment and temporary agencies may use average number of employees.)

› Person or organization being nominated: _____

Job role or title (if individual): _____

Is the nominee aware of this nomination? Yes No

Nominee contact person (if organization award): _____

Nominee company: _____

Nominee mailing address: _____

Nominee phone: _____ Nominee email: _____

› Person making nomination: _____

Company: _____ Title: _____

Phone: _____ Email: _____

Relationship to nominee _____

How did you hear about this award opportunity? _____

(insurance carrier, self, employer, etc.)

Did this entity/person receive a GOSH award in 2017 or 2019? _____

Please email, or mail completed nomination form and information by Friday, Oct. 28, 2022, to:

Oregon GOSH Conference
Attn: Awards Committee
PO Box 5640
Salem, OR 97304-0640

Scan and email to: Oregon.GOSH@dcbs.oregon.gov

We will confirm receipt of your nomination by phone or email. Nominations received after Oct. 28 will not be accepted.

Office use only
Notification of receipt sent

_____ / _____
(initial) (date)

Award questions: Kim Gamble, 503-705-6014, or email Oregon.GOSH@dcbs.oregon.gov

Submission Tip Sheet

Below are some tips to help with your submission.

Be sure to review the checklist of required items:

- Complete the Nomination Form and attach as cover sheet.
- Answer each question for the category. Verify the information is accurate.
- Provide statistical information, if appropriate.
- Limit your nomination question responses and supporting materials/appendices to four pages (using a legible 12-point font). Material beyond four pages or links will not be considered.
- Submit the nomination by the Friday, Oct. 28, 2022, deadline.

Use examples

Specific examples can help the judges better understand your nomination. For instance, when you describe an individual as passionate or caring about safety, share how they demonstrate those qualities.

What sets this person or organization apart?

Include enough information to allow judges to understand how and why your nominee is special. Back up claims with facts, examples, or challenges. Hint: What does this person or organization do that is above and beyond standard business or job responsibilities for safety and health?

Enlist help

Another set of eyes can help ensure you are presenting information clearly and with enough detail. Consider recruiting others who know your organization to help review or even write your submission. It is not recommended that multiple nominations for the same person be submitted.

Award questions: Kim Gamble, 503-705-6014,
or email Oregon.GOSH@dcbs.oregon.gov

Workplace Safety Program

This award recognizes workplace activities or projects that resulted in an outstanding contribution to occupational safety and health.

Small, mid-size, and large employers are encouraged to apply. Employers will compete with like-sized companies. Several award recipients are expected in this category.

Instructions:

Limit answers to the specific questions and supporting materials to a maximum of four typewritten pages (12-point font).

Please respond to each of the following in numeric order:

1. What are the unique safety and health challenges to the business or industry of the nominee? Give examples of how the employer dealt with the challenges.
2. Tell us about the safety culture. Describe employee engagement, management commitment, and accountability. Give examples.
3. Describe the training opportunities, wellness programs, or other activities the employer has in place to promote occupational safety and health.
4. Discuss how success is measured. Include statistical information to support improvement. How did this improve the safety and health success/performance?
 - 4a. If the nominee was a GOSH award recipient in this category at the 2017 or 2019 GOSH Conference, what have they done to show continuous improvement? If not applicable indicate N/A.

Checklist

- Complete the Nomination Form and attach as cover sheet.
- Answer each question for the category. Verify the information is accurate.
- Provide statistical information, if appropriate.
- Limit your nomination question responses and supporting materials/appendices to four pages (using a legible 12-point font).
- Submit the nomination by the Friday, Oct. 28, 2022, deadline.

Award questions: Kim Gamble, 503-705-6014, or email Oregon.GOSH@dcbs.oregon.gov

Oregon Governor's Occupational Safety & Health Conference
March 6-9, 2023 • Oregon Convention Center • Portland

Safety Committee or Safety/Health/ Total Worker Health Team

This award recognizes the work of safety committees or teams that made substantial efforts in the prevention of workplace injury and illness.

(Safety committee as defined by OAR 437-001-0765, "Rules for Workplace Safety Committees")

Safety committees or teams, regardless of the number of employees in the organization or number of members in the association, are encouraged to apply. Nominees will compete with like-sized organizations and associations. Several award recipients are expected in this category. This award category includes formal safety committees or informal safety/health/wellness teams. The Awards Committee will be looking for examples that demonstrate performance above and beyond regulatory compliance.

Instructions:

Limit answers to the specific questions and supporting materials to a maximum of four typewritten pages (12-point font).

Please respond to each of the following in numeric order:

1. What are the unique safety and health challenges to the business or industry of the nominee? Give examples of how challenges were addressed.
2. How are employees/members empowered to participate in the group's activities?
3. Describe collaboration with employees and management to advance the safety culture.
4. Describe accomplishments, projects, or recommendations that had a significant impact on the safety and health/wellness of workers in the organization. Include in your answer information to support improvement.
 - 4a. If the nominee was a GOSH award recipient in this category at the 2017 or 2019 GOSH Conference, what have they done to show continuous improvement? If not applicable indicate N/A.

Checklist

- Complete the Nomination Form and attach as cover sheet.
- Answer each question for the category. Verify the information is accurate.
- Provide statistical information, if appropriate.
- Limit your nomination question responses and supporting materials/appendices to four pages (using a legible 12-point font).
- Submit the nomination by the Friday, Oct. 28, 2022, deadline.

Award questions: Kim Gamble, 503-705-6014, or email Oregon.GOSH@dcbs.oregon.gov

Oregon Governor's Occupational Safety & Health Conference
March 6-9, 2023 • Oregon Convention Center • Portland

Association

This award recognizes associations who actively promote workplace safety, health, and/or wellness.

This category is open to trade, advocacy, and professional organizations that include paid or volunteer staff.

Instructions:

Limit answers to the specific questions and supporting materials to a maximum of four typewritten pages (12-point font).

Please respond to each of the following in numeric order:

1. What are the unique business and industry safety, health, and/or wellness challenges of the association's members? Give examples of how the association provided resources or helped members deal with the challenges.
2. Describe any occupational safety, health, and/or wellness educational programs or activities the association has provided for its members. Include innovations, recent activity, and accomplishments.
3. How does the association communicate occupational safety, health, and/or wellness programs and issues to its membership? Give examples.
4. How is commitment and engagement of association members demonstrated in occupational safety, health, and/or wellness programs and activities. Give examples.
 - 4a. If the nominee was a GOSH award recipient in this category at the 2017 or 2019 GOSH Conference, what have they done to show continuous improvement? If not applicable indicate N/A.

Checklist

- Complete the Nomination Form and attach as cover sheet.
- Answer each question for the category. Verify the information is accurate.
- Provide statistical information, if appropriate.
- Limit your nomination question responses and supporting materials/appendices to four pages (using a legible 12-point font).
- Submit the nomination by the Friday, Oct. 28, 2022, deadline.

Award questions: Kim Gamble, 503-705-6014, or email Oregon.GOSH@dcbs.oregon.gov

› Safety/Health/
Wellness Advocate

› Labor Representative
(union or nonunion)

These awards are for individuals whose primary job responsibilities are NOT safety, health, and/or wellness, yet they've made a significant contribution to the field of occupational safety, health, and/or wellness.

Instructions:

Limit answers to the specific questions and supporting materials to a maximum of four typewritten pages (12-point font).

Please respond to each of the following in numeric order:

1. Give a brief description of the industry and the nominee's role in the organization.
2. What are the unique safety, health, and wellness challenges to the business or industry of the nominee? Give examples of how the nominee dealt with those challenges.
3. Describe the activities the nominee has developed or implemented that improve occupational safety, health, and wellness. Provide information, publications, training and educational programs, research, procedures, etc., that the nominee created, designed, or improved, and how that improved performance.
4. How does the nominee demonstrate leadership, passion, and/or dedication to safety and health and communicate that information?
 - 4a. If the nominee was a GOSH award recipient in this category at the 2017 or 2019 GOSH Conference, what have they done to show continuous improvement? If not applicable indicate N/A.

Checklist

- Complete the Nomination Form and attach as cover sheet.
- Answer each question for the category. Verify the information is accurate.
- Provide statistical information, if appropriate.
- Limit your nomination question responses and supporting materials/appendices to four pages (using a legible 12-point font).
- Submit the nomination by the Friday, Oct. 28, 2022, deadline.

Award questions: Kim Gamble, 503-705-6014, or email Oregon.GOSH@dcbs.oregon.gov

Oregon Governor's Occupational Safety & Health Conference
March 6-9, 2023 • Oregon Convention Center • Portland

Safety and Health Professional

This award is intended for an individual whose primary job responsibilities are safety and health. Individuals do not need to possess professional credentials.

Instructions:

Limit answers to the specific questions and supporting materials to a maximum of four typewritten pages (12-point font).

Please respond to each of the following in numeric order:

1. Give a brief description of the industry and the nominee's role in the organization.
2. What are the unique safety, health, and wellness challenges to the business or industry of the nominee? Give examples of how the nominee dealt with those challenges.
3. Describe the activities the nominee has developed or implemented that improve occupational safety, health, and wellness above and beyond minimum regulatory compliance. Provide information, publications, training and educational programs, research, procedures, etc., that the nominee created, designed, or improved, and how that improved performance.
4. How does the nominee demonstrate leadership, passion, and/or dedication to safety and health and communicate that information?
 - 4a. If the nominee was a GOSH award recipient in this category at the 2017 or 2019 GOSH Conference, what have they done to show continuous improvement? If not applicable indicate N/A.

Checklist

- Complete the Nomination Form and attach as cover sheet.
- Answer each question for the category. Verify the information is accurate.
- Provide statistical information, if appropriate.
- Limit your nomination question responses and supporting materials/appendices to four pages (using a legible 12-point font).
- Submit the nomination by the Friday, Oct. 28, 2022, deadline.

Award questions: Kim Gamble, 503-705-6014, or email Oregon.GOSH@dcbs.oregon.gov

Innovation

This award recognizes the employee or team who creates an idea, a product, or a concept that promotes a safer workplace.

These awards are for individuals or teams who heightened the awareness of a safety concern, created a product that helped mitigate risk, or implemented a unique practice to advance safety and health.

Instructions:

Limit answers to the specific questions and supporting materials to a maximum of four typewritten pages (12-point font).

Please respond to each of the following in numeric order:

1. Describe the innovation: Is the idea, product, or concept one that has never been seen before? Is it an improvement on a current idea or concept?
2. Describe the creativity: How did the idea, product, or concept require thinking outside the box?
3. Describe how the innovation improves safety performance and reduces potential injury.
4. Describe the feasibility: Is the idea, product, or concept cost effective? Could cost be considered an investment?
5. Describe the results: Will the idea, product, or concept show immediate and or long-term gains to lower risk or avoid injury? Will the innovation be shared with others?

Checklist

- Complete the Nomination Form and attach as cover sheet.
- Answer each question for the category. Verify the information is accurate.
- Provide statistical information, if appropriate.
- Limit your nomination question responses and supporting materials/appendices to four pages (using a legible 12-point font).
- Submit the nomination by the Friday, Oct. 28, 2022, deadline.

Award questions: Kim Gamble, 503-705-6014, or email Oregon.GOSH@dcbs.oregon.gov

Rising Safety Star

This award is intended for a safety and health professional with less than five years of experience in safety and health and is blazing a path in the profession. This award is intended for an individual whose primary job responsibilities are safety and health.

Instructions:

Limit answers to the specific questions and supporting materials to a maximum of four typewritten pages (12-point font).

Please respond to each of the following in numeric order:

1. Give a brief description of the industry and the nominee's role in the organization.
2. What are the unique safety, health, and wellness challenges to the business or industry of the nominee? Give examples of how the nominee dealt with those challenges.
3. Describe the activities the nominee has developed or implemented that improve occupational safety, health, and wellness. Provide information, publications, training and educational programs, research, procedures, etc., that the nominee created, designed, or improved, and how that improved performance.
4. How does the nominee demonstrate leadership, passion, and/or dedication to safety, health, and wellness, and communicate that information?

Checklist

- Complete the Nomination Form and attach as cover sheet.
- Answer each question for the category. Verify the information is accurate.
- Provide statistical information, if appropriate.
- Limit your nomination question responses and supporting materials/appendices to four pages (using a legible 12-point font).
- Submit the nomination by the Friday, Oct. 28, 2022, deadline.

Award questions: Kim Gamble, 503-705-6014, or email Oregon.GOSH@dcbs.oregon.gov

Business Leader

This award is intended to recognize a business leader whose job is not safety and health but demonstrates extraordinary commitment to safety and health within their business and/or industry.

Instructions:

Limit answers to the specific questions and supporting materials to a maximum of four typewritten pages (12-point font).

Please respond to each of the following in numeric order:

1. Give a brief description of the industry and the nominee's role in the organization.
2. What are the unique safety, health, and wellness challenges to the business or industry of the nominee? Give examples of how the nominee supported/engaged with those challenges.
3. What has this business leader done to advance a positive safety culture and demonstrate their passion and dedication for safety and health?
4. How does the team view/embrace what the business leader communicates and demonstrates about workplace safety and health culture?

Checklist

- Complete the Nomination Form and attach as cover sheet.
- Answer each question for the category. Verify the information is accurate.
- Provide statistical information, if appropriate.
- Limit your nomination question responses and supporting materials/appendices to four pages (using a legible 12-point font).
- Submit the nomination by the Friday, Oct. 28, 2022, deadline.

Award questions: Kim Gamble, 503-705-6014, or email Oregon.GOSH@dcbs.oregon.gov